

Tourello Standardbreds

Tourello Standardbreds is a prominent standardbred breeding and stud operation located in Sheffield, Tasmania, headed by principal studmaster Kerrie Hymers.

In an industry long dominated by traditional bay and black horses, Tourello Standardbreds in Sheffield, Tasmania, is intentionally disrupting the status quo. Led by principal studmaster Kerrie Hymers, this 70-acre operation beautifully bridges elite racetrack performance with vibrant equine colour, regularly producing striking buckskins, grays, palominos, and registered skewbalds. The ultimate validation of this vision came with White Lion, a dazzling palomino pacer bred by Hymers. Sired by Tourello's Arctic Cat, he became an overnight fan favourite and proved his horsepower with an impressive victory at Mount Gambier after selling through the Australian Pacing Gold (APG) Yearling Sale.

However, aesthetics are only half the story. Tourello's commercial success is anchored by a world-class stallion roster. Headlining their resident sires is the legendary Lennytheshark—a dual Australian Horse of the Year and Inter Dominion Champion. Breeders can also access elite international frozen semen from northern hemisphere royalty, including All Bets Off and 2021 USA Breeders Crown Champion Summa Cum Laude. Tourello's yearlings consistently generate immense buzz at major APG and Nutrien Equine auctions.

To ensure peace of mind, the stud offers flexible terms like a Live Foal Guarantee (LFG) and payments deferred to a 42-day positive test. These foals are highly lucrative investments, boasting full eligibility for premier futurity schemes including VicBred, TasBred, the Breeders Crown, and the Bathurst Gold Crown.
